

Popular Drawing

Mrs. Jerry Swearingen had a series of tickets for last Saturday's drawing that covered the fender of a car, and many more had great bunches of tickets, attesting to the popularity of the project. G. R. McDowell won the drawing, and the drawing this Saturday will be at 3 p. m. on the square.

Odie Crowell Rejoins Buffaloes As Line Coach Under Jarnagin

A line coach to work in the new football setup has been appointed for the 1958 season according to an announcement by Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State College.

Odis L. (Odie) Crowell, who coached the WT line in 1948, '49 and '50, is the first of two assistants to be appointed to help new head coach Clark Jarnagin. Jarnagin will also be assisted by Hatcher Brown and basketball coach Borden Price will continue as head scout for the football team.

Crowell played football with Jarnagin at Hardin-Simmons University when Frank Kimbrough moved from Amarillo College to H.S.U.

Crowell began his career at Madador High School and went to Amarillo College to play under Kimbrough. He moved with Kimbrough to Abilene and finished his college playing there.

He played a part of the 1938 season with the Chicago Cards in the National Football League and coached Roby High School in 1939.

Dues of $2 per month and a set of substitute resolutions were adopted Monday night by the Buffalo Boosters in a meeting following the WT-Middle Tennessee basketball game.

The resolutions adopted were substitutes for nine which were submitted Nov. 18. The next meeting of the Boosters will be in the WT cafeteria on Jan. 20.

The resolutions adopted Monday night were:

Whereas, after due consideration it is our mature judgment that some items contained in the original recommendations do not come within the scope of activities which this group proposes to promote; and

Whereas, we realize that the athletic program at the college is in a period of growth and change and that consequently many problems are arising; and

Whereas, we are confident that the administration of West Texas State College is capable of administering the affairs of the athletic department and that they are working diligently to enlarge and improve the athletic program; be it therefore

Resolved that we propose to be of assistance to the administration of the college and to promote the athletic activities of the college in every way possible, but specifically as follows:

(a) To work with all present and future publicity and promotional directors of the college and to combine our efforts in one direction to fulfill college policies.

(b) To help develop a major college program by aiding in every way possible with the promotion of season ticket sales in order that the athletic department may have a guaranteed income sufficient to at least meet the cost of game contracts.

(c) To promote interest in and good will toward West Texas State College by inviting and encouraging high school students of the Panhandle area to attend athletic contests in the way that Homecoming visitors in 1957 were encouraged to come.

City Commission Asks Truckers Aid For Solution of Parking Problem

The problem of truck parking on Canyon's streets was presented to a group of truck owners by the Canyon City Commission Tuesday afternoon.

After the problem was given, the commission asked the truckers to help find a solution and meet again with the commission on Dec. 27.

A petition bearing 100 signatures was given the commission in November. The petition called for an ordinance banning truck parking on city streets.

Following receipt of the petition, the commission obtained a sample ordinance from the Texas League of Municipalities. The sample ordinance, one in use by the City of Corsicana, banned all truck parking on any city street at any time except for commercial deliveries.

The commission read the petition and the sample ordinance to the truck representatives and suggested that if the owners could obtain a satisfactory parking place off the city streets, the ordinance would not have to be passed.

Mayor Hosea Foster said the petition had signatures of 10 percent of the qualified voters, and the commission is bound to either pass an ordinance or work out a solution satisfactory to both the truckers and the signers of the petition.

He said the commission would prefer to get a solution through cooperation rather than through an ordinance. He noted that the sample ordinance would not even allow an out-of-town trucker to park his truck on the highway and go to a cafe for a meal, nor to stop long enough to make a simple purchase from a store.

It was suggested that if the truckers could find an area away from the residential district that would be large enough to handle several trucks and be accessible to all weather streets, the problem presented by the petition would be solved.

The truckers were given a copy of the sample ordinance and were asked to contact other truck owners not present for a meeting to discuss various solutions. They were also asked to meet again with the city commission on Dec. 27 and report their findings.

Commissioner Paul Lindsey said he hoped the truckers would come up with a concrete proposal so that action could be taken at the meeting next week.

The commission suggested that if the truckers could find such an area, the nightwatchman could be instructed to make periodic checks of the area to keep down vandalism and thefts of tires and gasoline.

The commission also decided to accept bids for removal of trees on Fourth Avenue and for moving fire hydrants that will be in the way of the widening of Fourth during the Dec. 27 meeting.

Santa Claus Is Coming Here

Buffalo Boosters Okay Resolutions

Will Be at Truitt-Townsend for Visits With Children of Canyon

Santa Claus is coming to Canyon to visit with children on three nights this week.

The kindly gentleman has been able to take enough time from his busy schedule to spend 1½ hours on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights in Canyon, and he is hoping that all his young friends will come by to see him.

Old Santa will be in the showroom of Truitt-Townsend Motor Company from 7 to 8:30 p. m. on each of the three nights. His visit is sponsored by the Lions and Rotary Clubs and the Jaycees.

A box for letters to Santa will be available at the showroom, so that youngsters can mail their letters. They will be printed in the Christmas Edition of The Canyon News, also. No stamps will be required on the letters as Santa can take them along as he goes home.

Santa Claus said he was sorry that he could not come to Canyon every day and spend lots of time here, but his schedule is so full with visits to children all over the world that he could spare only the three nights.

(Note to parents: Santa Claus said that letters mailed to him can be picked up at The Canyon News by those who wish to see them, or save them.)

Sorority Gathers Food for Needy

Members of Gamma Phi sorority at West Texas State College will conduct a house-to-house canvass between 5 and 6 p. m. tonight to collect canned goods and other food for needy families.

The sorority will visit as many Canyon homes as possible during the hour and will deliver the food to those families which need it.

Health Director Resigns Position

The recently appointed director of the Bi-County Health Department has announced his resignation to return to Halifax County, N. C.

Dr. Robert F. Young, who was appointed Nov. 15, said his resignation would be effective on Dec. 31.

The doctor said he had worked too long with the North Carolina public health system to change to another system. "Every state has its own setup and I have been with that one for 30 years before coming here," he said.

"The people here, the physicians, the officials and the citizens at large have been as nice to me as anywhere I have been," Dr. Young said. "We have enjoyed Amarillo very much, but just wanted to go back to North Carolina."

The director said he could see the possibility for development of a top-notch health program from Randall and Potter counties in the future.

Cooperating with the Bi-County Health Department are Canyon, Amarillo, Randall and Potter counties.

Bufs Dropped by Middle Tennessee; Play Santa Clara Here Saturday Night

Well-balanced scoring and a nearly 50 per cent accuracy brought Middle Tennessee an 88-85 victory over West Texas State Monday night despite a rousing rally by the Bufs in the last five minutes of the game. The game was the first home appearance of the Herd this season, and was the fifth loss of five starts.

The Blue Raiders of Tennessee held an 81-66 lead with only five minutes in the game when West Texas caught fire. The Bufs shoved in 19 points, but the Raiders managed seven at the same time and came out ahead.

Junior Fitts of Tahoka came out of the game with 31 points to lead scoring, but three Raiders came between his total and the second ranking Buffalo, Charlie Beaton, with 18 points.

Dickie Baugh had 21 and Frank Davis and Jerry Hurst picked up 19 each to lead the Tennesseans. Following Fitts and Beaton for WT, Allen Simpson had 13, Hugh Tilson 11, Max Miller 7, David Hatcher 3, and Jim Reid 2.

The first half was nearly a deadlock, with the score tied eight times. At halftime, the Raiders had a three-point lead that held through the third quarter. Tennessee eased their lead up to 15 points before the Bufs took hold and tried to catch up.

The Bufs will meet Santa Clara Saturday night in the WT Fieldhouse for the second home game of the season. Santa Clara beat WT 68-46 on the recent road trip to California.

Help From Homefolks

The daily newspapers keep telling us how the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the US Education Office are ganging up to put over a massive federal aid program in the next session of Congress to "help" the public schools of the United States.

During the last session of Congress, the idea the two bureaus were trying to sell was federal aid in school building. This time, since the last sale didn't work, they will be working on giving away money for college scholarships, to pay for science teachers in schools and to do this and that, always under the guise of "help." Their programs are always presented in "papa knows best" attitudes.

There's a program underway in Texas which could well be copied all over the nation, we believe. The program will neatly circumvent the give-away program of the two federal bureaus, and will probably do a much better job in the end.

The legislature set up a committee of 24 persons, called the Hale-Aikin committee, to organize a complete study of the school systems of the state, with the idea that a goodly period of time has elapsed since the Gilmer-Aikin bill was put into effect and it's time to see how it's working and how it might need to be changed.

The statewide committee decided that each county should have its own study of the systems in the county, and should make studies of four areas: Building facilities, curriculum, finances and teacher supply. The studies were to be made by private citizens rather than by teachers and administrators.

At the same time the state committee was getting set up, the Canyon school board recognized that the district is faced with a shortage of classrooms which can become serious in a few semesters. The board decided to ask the help of the citizens in studying the problem and for recommendations.

The Canyon board decided on studies in four areas: Building facilities, finances, growth trends and curriculum. The curriculum study had little to do with the classroom shortage, but it was felt the curriculum should be checked to see if it is adequate. When the Hale-Aikin committee sent out its notices, the Canyon board combined its efforts with the state work and added a fifth committee, teacher supply.

So we've begun to study our schools, here and all over the state. The study is being made by those persons most interested in having good schools, the people who finance the operation and who send their children to the schools they are studying.

We can be sure that the citizens committees will not trip on their heels overspending money—pouring it out where it is not needed. Nor will they fail to spend money where it is needed. The citizens will see the courses their children are being offered, and will be sure to point out any inadequacies that exist.

When the studies are all finished over the state, the local citizens will know what they need to do to help their own schools. The legislature will know what things should be changed and added to the statewide program, and we'll all be happier. The money will be used more efficiently, and we won't have to pay out any freight and handling charges for sending the money to Washington on a round trip.

The other states could well copy the efforts in Texas. The program is a model in self-government.

Out So Soon?

Bascom Giles has been trying to be paroled from prison before Christmas, and by this time he may be because the parole board was supposed to meet last Monday.

The folks who have been working to get Giles paroled have been saying he has not been treated as other prisoners are, that he is a "model" prisoner, and that he is being kept in prison because he is a "political" prisoner. The parole board refused once recently to let him go because "the state is not ready to accept him."

We can see no reason why Bascom Giles should be treated as any other prisoner. He is different because the crime he committed is different. He not only stole money, he stole the public trust. Stealing the public trust is a most heinous crime that must not be condoned, nor pardoned.

We do not think Bascom Giles, nor any other public official convicted of stealing the public trust, should be released one second before his full sentence is served.

We have just ended the heaviest year of outboard motor business in history.

Outboard marine Corp., which makes several of the leading brands of outboard motors, has just announced a consolidated net sales of $150,476,319 for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1957. Joseph G. Rayniak, president of the corporation, said it exceeded last year's sales by $28,431,477.

For eight years the sales of outboards have been climbing. This company makes Evinrude, Johnson and Bucaer outboard motors and the Lawnboy mower, together with other light weight gasoline powered items such as chain saws.

Other outboard manufacturers also have increased net sales, because of the increased interest in water sports.

Texas is fortunate in having plenty of water to provide for these water sports, with plans for more dams on the drawing boards. If we could have caught all the water that fell this year and carried top soil into the Gulf of Mexico, they'd be a good lake in almost every back yard. That's what we need to provide for the dry years.

Ever Eat A Mud Hen?

Ever try eating coot? That's the mud hen that infests Texas lakes and streams and annoys hunters. They are legal, just like ducks, and at the same season.

Great rafts of coot work along the shore lines, and sometimes will get out into deep water. In some instances they act as decoys. Ducks will light among them. Try to slip in among these coot in a boat, however, and they'll take wing, just skimming the top of the water, half flying, half paddling with their web feet.

Now comes the great Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation with a book of recipes for cooking coot (and duck). The recipes were tried and tested by the Iowa State College.

Roy Durie is a cowboy at heart—wears a broad-brimmed white hat, Western shirt and pants and a pair of boots. He always owns at least one good saddle horse and he rides in parades and in rodeo grand entries and he long ago lost count of how many horse shows he has announced. He hasn't missed a Fort Worth Stock Show in something like 40 years. Mention a trail-ride—and Roy is ready to saddle up right now.

How does this individual who looks like a figure in a Zane Grey novel make a living? Cattle? Horses? Or even sheep? Nope—he's the head man in the stereotyping department of the Waco News-Tribune.

If funds are needed for a civic cause, especially if it's one with a Western flavor, Roy will button-hole each man he meets, shove two tickets in the man's shirt pocket and say, "Two dollars, please." Nobody says "No" to Roy. Or if anybody does, Roy doesn't hear him and, in the end, the other will give up.

One of his most amusing achievements was this: A riding club was fitting up its grounds and Roy persuaded the owner of an adjoining cafe that it would improve the appearance of his place to put up a fence. Then when the club was moving, some years later, to another location, Roy sold the fence back to the man! (Of course, the profit went to the club.)

Durie is six feet two; weighs over 200 and has a voice that originates down around his toenails and he is not averse to using it. He has a favorite table in the Piccadilly Cafeteria. It just so happens that it's the one right at the front and Roy faces the entrance; the result is that he sees everyone and everyone sees him. In that booming voice, which can carry across 640 acres on a still day, he will hail a new arrival as "Stinky" or "Durnyankee" or "Republican" (which is, to Roy, the cussiest cussing he knows).

What they might resent from anybody else, from him is all right. Why? It must be because he's Roy Durie.

Outside of the Thanksgiving feast and its subsequent period of Alka-Seltzer drinking, about the only thing people really get out of Thanksgiving any more is a chance to drive around and see the decorations go up. It's the day that Santa Claus starts cropping up all over the nation's super markets and department stores. It begins the glad Christmas shopping season, when all tested American propaganda devices to separate the men from the dollars have full heads of steam. Thanksgiving means we have 30 days of tinsel, advertising and endless renditions of "White Christmas" to soften up the patronage. Every year the "patrons" throw up a stubborn defense, but they always crack under the barrage of pressure, and they sentimentally put themselves in hock until the following August to prove that this country's prosperity depends upon the profit system. Thanksgiving is also the deadline for mailing Christmas packages overseas and addressing the last of the Christmas greeting cards. We got our first Christmas greeting card Monday. Yessir, what we love most about Thanksgiving—is Christmas!

Some of you newly-married fellows may think you wear the pants in the family but you're not going to be able to convince the Internal Revenue Service of it. The tax collectors have trouble every year, according to a news release from the Bureau of Internal Revenue, with people who want to be "head of the household" during income tax filing time.

The "head of the household" status cannot, under any circumstances, apply to a married couple for income tax purposes, the Bureau warns. Only unmarried persons can claim this status. You may wear the britches in your family, but you cannot claim to be head of the household on your income tax return if you're married and have a living spouse.

Of course a lot of married men have found that out without asking the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Both special sessions of the Legislature passed all the bills for which Gov. Price Daniel called them. Mostly, by wide margins. Even so, final days found everyone at sixes and sevens. House members and Senators wrangled among themselves. Each house sniped at the other. And numerous lawmakers found ways to show they were put out with the governor.

Both houses gave lop-sided approval to the two bills requested by the governor to bolster local control of schools. One allows closing of schools threatened with federal occupation. The other empowers the attorney general to assist local districts in fighting anti-segregation suits.

Then, another bill was proposed to allow county judges to require registration of organizations attempting to interfere with public school operations. Sponsors said it was aimed at the NAACP.

Though there seemed to be no large block of opposition to the measure itself, haggling technicalities stretched out the time table.

Some legislators accused others of deliberately prolonging the session to embarrass the governor. Each day (including weekends) made a $11,600 bite into the governor's emergency fund. House members said Senators were sticking around to have the last word in their feud with the Insurance Department.

Whatever the cause, it seemed evident that the Texas Legislature can't be turned on and off like a faucet.

Hindsight

Renewal of the contest over tidelands ownership brought criticism of Governor Daniel's role in the federal tidelands law.

Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo said he felt Daniel should have seen to it the 1953 law recognized specifically Texas' claim to lands 10½ miles out. Daniel, then a U. S. Senator, sponsored the federal law. At present a federal suit challenges Texas' claim to land beyond

Daniel retorted that if Hardeman would read the bill he would find it gives each state title to boundaries "as they existed at the time such state entered the union." Texas Congress fixed the coastal boundary at 10½ miles into the Gulf, said the governor.

Hardeman replied Daniel should have attached a map to the bill.

Not Happy

Dissatisfaction of a number of Senators with the Insurance Department seems unlikely to simmer down.

Senate investigating committee indicated it is still not through with its inquiry into the Department's delay in action on an unfavorable report on Preferred Life. It recessed after hearing two assistant state auditors confirm the examiner's finding of irregularities in the company.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood stressed the committee's findings in a speech explaining why the Senate had turned down the Insurance Board's appointment of William A. Harrison as commissioner. He said the Senate felt Harrison had been remiss in not taking immediate action against the company.

Senate finance committee turned critical questions on the three board members for having questioned the Senate's right to pass on Harrison's appointment. Board appeared to ask a bill authorizing the department to reduce the number of examiners and raise salaries.

Land Buy Okayed

Legislature moved forward another step the plan for a consolidated state government center in the heart of Austin.

Both houses passed a bill authorizing purchase of two blocks north-east of the Capitol for a Texas Employment Commission Building.

Overall plan is to ring the Capitol on three sides with five new buildings. Included will be the State Courts Building, state office building, Insurance Building, TEC Building and library and archives building. Cost is estimated at $20,000,000, all to come from various special funds rather than general revenue.

Oil Leasing Held Up

Excessive importing of foreign oil was blamed for the Texas School Land Board's decision not to hold an oil and gas lease sale in February.

Board members said the market is too depressed to make a sale worthwhile. "There's no use putting up our school land at a cheap price to let the oil companies profit still more because of their excess imports," said Governor Daniel.

At least one large oil company has informed the state it may pay rentals on present leases of submerged land under protest pending outcome of a federal suit contesting state ownership of a portion of the tidelands.

A Chance To Speak

Citizens in every county will be given a chance to say what kind of schooling is needed to equip Texas youngsters to live in a space age.

A school study committee set up by the last Legislature plans to ask local county committees to submit ideas. Called the Hale-Aiken Committee, the 24-member panel is made up of legislators

They've promised to head the wants of interested citizens in the report they're to make to the next session. Already, there's been a large response. Suggestions range from a "crash" program in science to cutting new building needs by using facilities 12 months a year.

Broad areas being explored in the study are (1) what to teach and for how long, (2) how to get

Survey Shows Fewer Farms

COLLEGE STATION—U.S. farms are decreasing in number and increasing in size. Farms in Texas are no exception to the general rule. There are now approximately 304,000 farms in Texas, compared to 506,000 in 1931, the year in which farms in this state reached their peak in numbers.

This comparison is based on revised estimates of census figures up to 1956, as reported by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In 1910, Texas farms numbered 418,000, according to the USDA report which gives numbers of farms by states for each year since then.

While numbers of farms have been decreasing, investment per farm has gone up—averaging $27,000 this year, according to other Department of Agriculture research.

Nationally, the total acreage of cropland harvested in 1957 is about the same as in 1940. But the size of farms has risen about 40 per cent since that time and output per farm is up 74 per cent. Farm output per manhour has more than doubled, and the average farm worker now produces enough food and fiber for himself and 20 others.

Money Ready

State Liquidator J. D. Wheeler repeated an earlier statement that he is ready to start making payments of about 33 cents on the dollar to US Trust and Guaranty Co. creditors.

He's been ready since September, said Wheeler, but a court fight among creditors has blocked ac-

Amity Group Meets In John Wright Home

The Amity Club celebrated their Christmas party with Mrs. John Wright Dec. 13.

Opening the meeting by singing "Joy to the World," the group heard three readings. Mrs. Henry Harden read Luke 2:1-52. "A Star in the East" was read by Mrs. Pennie Cox, and a Christmas story, "A Family Affair," was read by Mrs. Will Davis.

Secret pals were revealed around a Christmas tree. Refreshments of prune cake topped with whipped cream, mints, coffee and cocoa were served.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Henry Cone, Mrs. George Combs and Mrs. Will Davis.

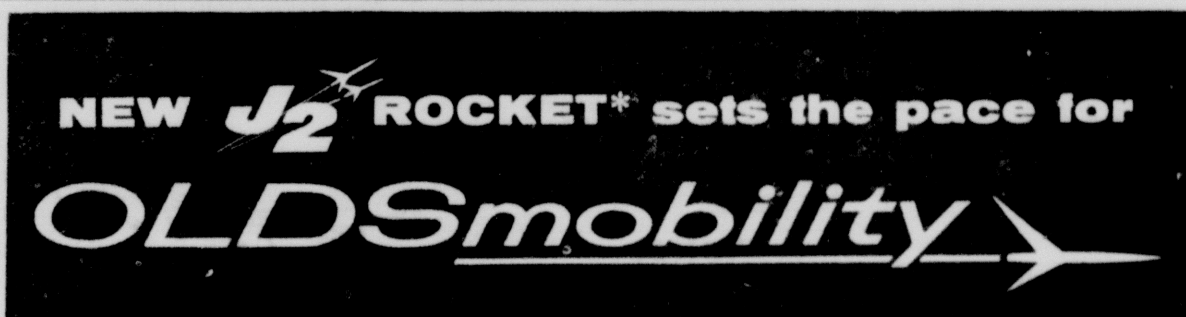

Present were Mrs. T. T. Fain, Mrs. W. J. Wester, Mrs. Seth Dowd, Mrs. C. L. Danner, Mrs. Henry Long, Mrs. Mary Burtz, Mrs. Dick Terry, Mrs. Harden, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. R. D. Lowry, Mrs. J. C. Dowd, and the co-hostesses.

tion. His statement apparently was prompted by legislative criticism of "too slow" liquidation proceedings.

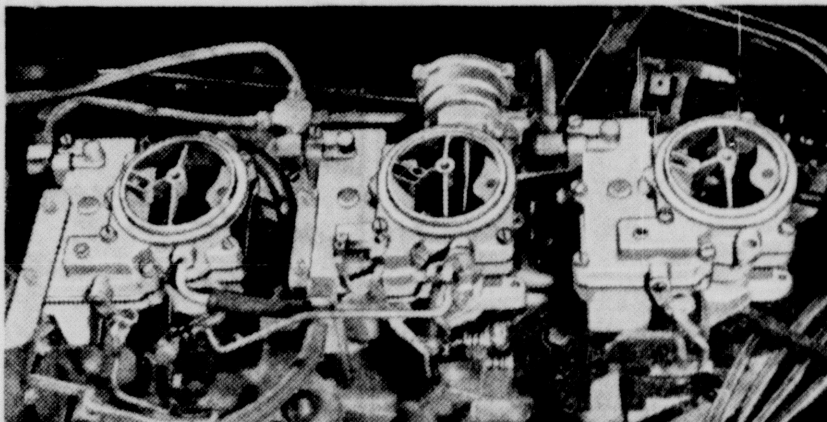

Short Snorts

Texas' January draft quota will be 493 men, highest call since August, according to State Selective Service Headquarters. This compares with a call of 340 for December. Also in January, local draft boards are to send some 2,000 men for re-induction examinations.

Travis County Judge Tom Johnson is making another try at getting the state to pay cost of returning criminals from other states. Previous Legislature and governor cold-shouldered his pleas. Records show extraditions cost Travis County $1,117 in 1956.

Watched your wife do the wash, lately?

It's an enlightening experience, if she's still bound to the backyard with an old-fashioned clothesline! Better yet, try hanging the clothes yourself! You'll soon see why mechanical science has moved mountains to make the chore easier. And science has succeeded! With a work-saving GAS Clothes Dryer, you just pop in the wet clothes, turn a dial and... that's all there is to it! No lifting, lugging, stooping or stretching. Amazingly enough, it costs approximately $2.60 to dry clothes an entire year for a family of four! Considering all the disadvantages of line drying, it's hardly worthwhile walking out the backdoor for that. See your gas appliance dealer right away. It'll be one of the smartest moves you ever made.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

I Wonder If He Did

Call the President, that is. Several days ago I was out of town overnight. When I returned Mrs. Rogers reported to me that about 25 minutes before 4 a. m., the telephone rang. She shook herself out of a very deep sleep and answered it. An operator asked if Honorable Rogers was at this number.

Mrs. Rogers advised the operator her husband was not at home but that she would be happy to advise him of the call on the following day. She stated to the operator if the party calling would leave his name she would be happy to deliver the message.

Whereupon, a very agitated voice at the other end of the line advised the operator that he was a very patriotic, tax paying citizen, and if the Attorney General wasn't at home at that time of the morning to attend to his problem, he would just "call the President."

Mrs. Rogers tried to explain to the operator that she had obtained the wrong number—that her husband was not the Attorney General but a Member of Congress. However, before the matter could be straightened out with the agitated voice at the other end of the line, he had cancelled the call and was probably looking up the number of the White House.

The difficulty arose, no doubt, because the new Attorney General is also named Rogers (William P.), and he lives just a few blocks from us.

Mrs. Rogers never did find out whence the call came or the name of the caller. She did worry the rest of the night as to whether or not the caller was going to call the President to tell on the Attorney General for not being at home near 4 o'clock in the morning, or whether he wanted to present his problem directly to the head of the nation. In any event, we are both still wondering whether he ever got in touch with the President.

U. S. Merchant Marine Academy

I have many requests from young men who want to enter one of the Service Academies; that is, West Point, Annapolis or the new Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs. However, very few requests come in concerning appointment to the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy, which is located at Kings Point, N. Y. This Academy furnishes excellent training for the sea, and may be of great interest to many who have never before had notice of it.

As a Member of Congress, I may nominate not more than 10 to participate in competitive examinations (College Entrance Board Examinations) to be held on Saturday, March 15, 1958. From those competing in these examinations, approximately 300 students will be selected to enter the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy during August, 1958.

As you can see, the designation of the student to enter the Academy is on the basis of merit. The age, educational and physical standards are similar to those required for appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy.

The Academy is an accredited institution, offers a four-year course at college level leading to a License as U. S. Merchant Marine Officer as either 3rd Mate or 3rd Assistant Engineer and the Bachelor of Science Degree. Qualified graduates may be commissioned Ensigns in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Anyone who is interested in this program should write me at 1330 House Office Building, Washington, D. C., indicating his desire to participate. You will be furnished with all necessary information on the program, as well as advice as to where and when to report for the examination.

Veterans Benefits

Rumblings around Washington indicate the Administration expects to recommend sharp reductions in many veterans benefits after Jan. 1, 1958. Some think this was clearly indicated in the speech of the President at Oklahoma City. Such a recommendation will, no doubt, cause a conflict between the Administration and the Congress.

There have been many complaints by veterans in the last few years about percentage reductions in disability ratings. In some of these cases, a veteran has had his percentage of disability measurably reduced on the basis that previous examinations had been in error.

The veterans have found it most difficult to understand how 6 or 7 doctors on previous examinations could have committed the same error in rating their disability. Some also have found it difficult to understand how the Veterans Administration can reach a conclusion that a disability was not service-connected even though the case had been reviewed on several occasions in the past and service-connection of the disability had always been established.

Many have suspected that a program has been in effect to reduce the benefits to veterans by gradually cutting down their percentage of disability. Many veterans, in all walks of life, are deeply disturbed, because they feel if the veterans benefits are to be reduced, the last to suffer should be those bearing the scars and disabilities of actual battle. Watch for some fireworks on this issue.

Care Can Make Christmas Safe

COLLEGE STATION — The Christmas season is indeed a happy one, but few people stop to think of the added fire hazards their home contains during this time of the year.

The Christmas tree, the center of all the pretty decorations, can be one of the principal hazards if certain precautions are not followed, warns W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer.

A freshly cut tree should be selected just a few days before Christmas, advises Ulich. Cut the base of the tree diagonally and keep the base submerged in water. Locate it away from fireplaces, powerful electric lights, radiators or other sources of heat.

Use only Underwriters Laboratories approved lights for the tree and inspect them carefully for frayed cords and damaged sockets, says the engineer. Avoid overloading electrical circuits with additional lights, toys and appliances.

Only nonflammable decorations should be used on the tree, he cautions. Turn the tree lights off when retiring or leaving the house. Discard the tree when the needles begin to dry and fall off. Also remove Christmas package wrappings as soon as they have been taken from the packages.

This is also a time for smokers to take special precautions. Extra care should be taken with cigarettes, cigars and pipes around all flammable materials.

Observance of these few rules can result in a safer and happier Christmas season for the whole family, concludes Ulich.

Kay Hubbard, Jimmy Jones United By Double Ring Church Ceremony

A double ring ceremony united in marriage Miss Kay Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Hubbard, and Jimmy Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jones of Borger.

The service, read by the Rev. Doyle Ragle, pastor, was performed in the First Methodist Church Nov. 27.

Decorating the altar area were baskets of white gladiolus and greenery and white satin draped over the altar. White satin ribbon marked the pews.

Attired in a dress of blue eyelet over taffeta, Jo Hubbard, sister of the bride, lit candelabra-held tapers. Her flowers were arranged in a wristlet.

Nuptial selections played by Mrs. Glenn Dowlen, organist, and sung by Mrs. Debra Devenport were "Because" by d'Hardelot, "I Love You Truly" by Bond and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. Traditional processional and recessional marches were used.

The matron-of-honor, Mrs. Allen Simpson, and the maid-of-honor, Florence Clement, were attired identically in open blue dresses of nylon and acetate lace over taffeta. Both carried bouquets of blue chrysanthemums. The brides-matrons, Mrs. Charles Hubbard, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a similarly styled dress. She carried an identical bouquet.

Kenneth Jones of Borger, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsmen were Eddie Meyer and Glynn Gregg. Fred Dawson and Jerry Martindale were ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over candlelight satin, designed with a sweetheart neckline embroidered with pearls, long tapered sleeves extending to a point over the hands and a full skirt terminating in a chapel length train. Her veil of French silk illusion was held by a pearl tiara. Her bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by feathered carnations.

Father J. Arnold Carlson of Panhandle preached Saturday night and at the closing ceremony Sunday night. Bishop John L. Morokovsky presided at the closing, which started at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

Father Leo Lavoe is priest of St. Ann's.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

How would you like to have a full time job that pays you little or nothing?

If you are interested, let it be known that you are ready to serve as a supervisor of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District.

The present Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District supervisors are J. W. Spencer, chairman, C. V. Conatser, Frank Begert, Marshall Rockwell Jr., and R. C. Sampson Jr., secretary-treasurer.

These men, elected by the local land owners and operators, are not on a salary. They receive only a small allowance when they attend regular meetings.

The Randall-Potter S.C.D. supervisors attend 12 regular meetings each year, the first Tuesday night of each month.

They also attend called meetings at any time there is business that needs to be cared for before the regular meeting night. They are also invited to attend ASC committee meetings, especially those in which any changes in program are discussed.

The district supervisors, with the help and advice of local land owners, state and federal agencies, develop a program and plan of work for the Randall-Potter S.C.D. The program and plan is an interesting document which contains, in part, some history of early agriculture in Randall and Potter Counties.

The supervisors receive $4 per meeting for attendance at regular meetings, a total of not more than 20 meetings per year.

Again we would like to ask, "Would you like to have a full time job that pays you little or nothing?" If you are interested, the State of Texas, through the State Soil Conservation Board, will partially reimburse your expenses — up to $80 per year — to serve as a supervisor with the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District.

Things we're trying to remember this happy, hurried holiday season:

That red and green traffic lights aren't part of the festive decorations. They mean "Stop" and "Go," just as they did in August.

That the time to plan Christmas shopping is before we get behind the steering wheel of the family four-door.

That we're probably the only smart driver on the streets and highways during the Christmas season — and ought to act that way.

That there are usually just two kinds of Christmas shoppers: the cheerful-early and the late-worried. We hope to borrow from each and help start a movement for a third type this year — the shopper who is cheerful-late.

That a smile is answered by a smile. It's not the saleslady's fault she's out of gold spray paint and size 34 blouses.

That overeating is overeating, December or May; and extra calories settle in the same overstuffed spots no matter the season.

That loved ones at hand have more claim on our spirits than those far away. The distant ones are probably having fun where they are; we indulge ourselves by pining for them.

That Rome wasn't built in a day, and what difference does it make if we're two days late with our Christmas greeting cards, candies and cakes — they'll still be enjoyed.

That at least half the hurry and worry we feel tightening up inside us is only a way of looking at things.

These are the things we're trying to remember . . . Meanwhile, we'd better hop in the car and run by the grocery store for candied fruits on the way to that Christmas tea. It'll take only ten more minutes, and we've got five!

AWKWARD AGE

"How old are you, Bobby?" asked the visitor.

"Oh, I'm just at that awkward age."

"Really," said the visitor, "and just what do you consider the awkward age?"

"Well," said Bobby, "I'm too old to cry and too young to cuss."

turned over to the paper for publication.

Those wishing to deposit money should fill in a deposit slip at the First National Bank in this manner: Write the date, "Christmas Card Fund," and "Care of Jeanne Louder" at the top. Fill in the amount and sign the deposit slip at the bottom.

Both the original and duplicate of the deposit slip should be left at the bank, so that contributors names can be published with the community Christmas Card.

Money collected by the project will go toward helping establish a community center in Canyon. The project was started with the idea that Canyon citizens and businesses would not send Christmas cards to friends and neighbors who live in Canyon, but the money usually spent in that manner would go to the project.

It was not intended that the project stop the practice of sending Christmas cards to out-of-town friends.

(c) To offer our help in any other ways that may develop from time to time.

Items in the original resolutions which were changed by the one adopted by the club include suggestion for the appointment of a fulltime business manager for athletics, public announcement of paid attendance at games, attention to be focused on the problem of free passes, publicity on the meetings of the WT athletic committee and a request for copies of the minutes of the meetings of the athletic committee to be used to coordinate policy with the college.

President A. W. Lair said a nominating committee would be named to select a slate of officers for next year, so that the new officers could work out a program of help for the athletic department.

Mrs. J. M. Hart of Gruver spent the weekend recently in the G. B. Combs home.

Christmas Party Is at Cornettes

Members of the Woman's Book Club convened Dec. 11 for a Christmas party at the spacious home of Mrs. James P. Cornette.

Greetings were extended to the group by Mrs. Lee Johnson, president, and the program was turned over to Mrs. Lee Foster, who introduced the guests that would present the program.

Mrs. Bruce Winn sang "How Beautiful the Mountain" and "Sweet Little Jesus Boy." Eid Sweis of Amman, Jordan, was guest speaker. Sweis, a student at West Texas State College, gave an informative talk on his country, followed by a question and answer period.

The Christmas theme was carried throughout the house in the decorations. The serving table was laid with white linen cloth and held a pink and white centerpiece. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Charles Harter served. Mrs. Irving SoRelle, Mrs. Bob Wear and Mrs. Mary E. Sliger assisted the hostess.

Members exchanged gifts from the Christmas tree. A gift of 75 cents was brought by each member to be presented to the county library.

Twenty-nine members and three guests, Mrs. Clyde Warwick, Mrs. Winn and Sweis, were present.

second to Davis with 10 points. In the Happy-Canyon game, Pruett led scoring with 17 points. Leonard Miller was second with nine and Davis third with seven. Happy led 9-7 at the first quarter mark, and 22-13 at halftime. They kept their lead at the end of the third quarter, 32-27, but the Eagles flew ahead by the end of the game.

Canyon trailed in the first quarter of the Vega game, with Vega gaining a 10-1 lead before the first quarter was over. Coach Lynn Hulsey substituted his reserve squad and they picked up five points before the period. At halftime, Canyon led 25-21, and led 48-25 at three-quarters.

Cecil Pitt led scoring in the game with 19 points, with Harle from Vega second with 16. Second for the Eagles was Dana Wilbanks with 12. Miller had 11 points and Roy Harris 10. Dwayne Ledbetter picked up nine.

Pitt hit four of 10 field goal shots and 11 of 16 free throws to lead the scoring. Wilbanks hit six of eight field goals.

Through eight games, three Eagles are pushing each other for scoring honors. Pruett is tops with 85 points from 34 field goals and 17 free throws. Davis and Miller are tied for second with 64 points each. Davis has made his points from 23 field goals and 18 free shots, while Miller's are from 24 field goals and 16 free shots.

Pitt is in third spot with 33 points from 10 field goals and 13 free shots. Next is Larry Brotherton with 29 points. Dana Wilbanks has 28 points. Dory Funk has 20 points. Dwayne Ledbetter has 13 points. Roy Harris has 12 points. Bob Winn has six points. Craig Hinger has one point.

for International Harvester in Amarillo but returned in 1944 to play three seasons with the Los Angeles Bulldogs and Hollywood Rangers. In 1947 he was a tackle with the San Francisco 49ers in the old All-America Professional League.

Crowell coached briefly in 1948 at Friona High School, but accepted an offer to coach for Kimbrough at West Texas. He remained here through the 1950 season when WT took the conference title and defeated Cincinnati in the Sun Bowl, then moved to Arizona University for the 1951 and 1952 seasons.

Crowell left football again to operate a cotton gin in Flomot, then became director of vocational education at Amarillo College in 1956. He and his family, including four sons, live in Amarillo.

In 1937, Crowell was captain of the HSU team and was named to the All-Southwest football team that year, one of the three players not from Southwest Conference schools.

Jarnagin said he is happy to have Crowell to help with the Buffaloes. "I've known him for many years. I played with him and I have associated with him since those days. He was an aggressive college player and he has the knack of instilling that aggressiveness in his players," Jarnagin said.

DAR Historian Reviews Policies of Alexander Hamilton for Bi-Centennial

By MRS. T. B. McCARTER
DAR Historian

"We forget these things too soon—That other men died to keep us free;

That Christian ideals created freedom;

That our children cannot live by bread alone;

That a nation can be no stronger than its faith;

That our future can be no greater than our vision;

That the quality of our daily work is a measure of our character.

We forget these things too soon, yet—

Who will remember if we forget?"

The year 1957 is the bi-centennial of Alexander Hamilton, one of our earliest statesmen and patriots.

He first came into prominence while he was a student at Kings College, now Columbia University, in a series of papers in defense of the colonies. These were written on the first appearance of disagreement with Great Britain.

Hamilton entered the war as a captain and came out a colonel. He was a great financier, and was chosen by Washington as the secretary of the treasury in the first cabinet.

Hamilton was a compelling force in the organization of the government. He believed that the United States could best be served by a concentration of power in the Federal government.

To this end, he was able to get three major bills passed by Congress that have been political issues through the history of the country. The first was a bill for the Federal government to assume the foreign, continental and state debts—$12 million, $42 million and $21 million respectively. What paltry sums compared to present-day bookkeeping!

He, a Federalist, met with much opposition in this proposal by the Republicans—now so-called Democrats—headed by Jefferson, a strict states righter.

The second bill provided for establishing a central national bank with branches at different centers. At that time there were only three banks in the country, one each at Philadelphia, New York and Boston, all state institutions.

The third proposition he was able to push through Congress was a protective tariff with recommendations that materials with which goods were manufactured should not be taxed. This measure was sectional and has been a constant bone of contention.

Hamilton's idea of concentration of government at the capital has about reached its culmination in the administrations of Roosevelt and Truman, so-called Democrats, and of Eisenhower, a Republican. "What's in a name?"

Hamilton was one of the leading forces in forming the Constitution. In fact, he, born 200 years ago, played an important role in helping shape the destinies of the citizens of the United States.

Yet when the name of Alexander Hamilton is mentioned, I dare say that he will be remembered by the average citizen as the man who fought a duel with Aaron Burr.
